Slitters

THE Acu-Slit slitter comes in online and cut-to-length configurations. The multipurpose, rotary device features a solid, hardened anvil, and blade materials are through-hardened D-2 steel. Both units have precision bearings to handle high load forces, as well as precision machined-steel side frame plates. The unit mounts on any production line and performs a variety of tasks from simple slitting to motorized slitter that cut dense materials.

Shear-cut slitters provide precise cuts on flexible materials and have the longest blade life.

Crush-cut slitters cut thicker, low-density materials such as filter media and nonwovens.
